Short Description:

The Shin-etsu Trail runs for 80 kilometers along the border between Nagano and Niigata Prefectures, following the path of the Sekida Mountain ridge. Tall, well-shaped beech trees form a corridor of green along the path. The packed-earth trail also makes for easy walking. In spring, the last traces of snow can be seen among new greenery and flowers bursting into bloom. In the fall, hikers can enjoy the brilliant colours of autumn leaves. These passages were used for carrying salt and sea-products from Niigata and Uchiyama paper and mustard seed oil from Nagano. The famous warlord Kenshin Uesugi is said to have led tens of thousands of his men through these passages to fight the Battle of Kawanakajima.

Highlights:

- Partaking in this trek you'll truly feel a sense of contributing to the local area through the accommodation, guides and others with whom you come into contact and their love and appreciation of nature
- Located around 1,000m above sea level, it is one of the few long trails of Japan
- This area is blessed with a rich ecosystem, including magnificent Japanese beech tree forests.
- An opportunity to learn so much about the local history and culture.
- Travel on Japan's famous bullet train to Iiyama
- Trek from Nagano to Niigata on the Shin-Etsu Trail enjoying the seasonal beauty of the Sekida Mountains

ITINERARY

Day 1 : Monday 19 May TOKYO-IYAMA

Arrive at Iiyama Station by Shinkansen (bullet train) and visit the Tourist Information Centre to collect an orientation map for trekking. Make your own way to Madaro Kogen by local bus. Check in to the Madarao Kogen Hotel and prepare for your trek. Transfer by bus to Yamanoie visitor centre where you will meet your local guide from the Shinetsu Trail Club. This guide has an intimate knowledge of the area and will make your afternoon trekking adventure very interesting. At 5:30pm you will be picked up and return to relax in the onsen before dinner at the hotel.

Dinner included

Day 2 - Tuesday 20 May IIYAMA

Enjoy a western style breakfast at the hotel and pick up a delicious obento (lunch box) before your bus transfer to Akaike, the starting point of today's 6hr trek. Trek on your own over a small hill and through the beech-tree forest to Numanohara Wetlands, which blossom with flowers after the spring thaw. Walk over a small hill to Lake Nozori. From the top of the hill, Mt. Madarao, Hakama Peak and even Mt. Myoko can be seen on a clear day. Descend through the larch-tree forest to Wakui Shinike, and then continue along a farm road, lined with refreshing patches of spring water -- the perfect treat for an exhausted hiker. Walk along a paved road Wakui Village where the bus will collect you. Dine at the hotel after a soak in the onsen.
